No. _____

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff League of Women Voters of Arizona (“Plaintiff” or “the League”), through its attorneys, brings this complaint against Defendants Lions of Liberty LLC, the Yavapai County Preparedness Team, Jim Arroyo, Lucas Cilano, Nicholas Cilano, Brian

1 Mounsey, Toby Fox, Bruce Mounsey, James Johnson, Melody Jennings, Clean Elections
2 USA, and John Does 1-10 (collectively “Defendants”).

3 INTRODUCTION

4 1. The right of voters to cast their ballots free from intimidation, threats, 5 or coercion is a foundational principle of a democratic society. See Reynolds v. Sims, 377
6 U.S. 533, 562 (1964) (“[T]he right to exercise the franchise in a free and unimpaired
7 manner is preservative of other basic civil and political rights.”). This lawsuit challenges
8 an escalating scheme of voter intimidation and harassment in Arizona that undermines 9 that right. The challenged scheme relies on, inter alia, (1) intimidating voters by 10 collecting their personal information and surveilling them while carrying firearms and 11 wearing military tactical gear, and (2) propagating false information to citizens about the 12 manner in which they can lawfully vote and groundlessly claiming that voters are engaged 13 in election crimes, thereby threatening voters’ reputation and personal safety.

14 2. This campaign of intimidation is predicated on lies. Defendants have 15 promoted and fixated on a thoroughly debunked conspiracy theory that so-called “ballot 16 mules” illegally “stuffed” ballots in drop boxes during the 2020 election. The theory 17 arises from a widely viewed 2022 disinformation film, 2000 Mules, which falsely claims 18 to show evidence—including surveillance footage—of the so-called “mules” illegally 19 depositing ballots in drop boxes. In reality, the film—which has been roundly discredited 20 by experts for its flawed analysis—presents images of innocent voters lawfully casting 21 their ballots and uses their images to peddle a dangerous conspiracy theory that has done 22 untold damage to those voters, their families, election workers, and trust in the electoral 23 process.

24 3. Defendants and their co-conspirators have propagated the lie that Arizonans 25 violate the law whenever they deposit a ballot for another person—disregarding the fact 26 that Arizona law expressly allows household members, caregivers, and election officials 27 to assist other voters by dropping off their ballots in a drop box. Defendants’ falsehoods 28 are both intended to and have the reasonably foreseeable effect of deterring and

1 intimidating Arizonans from voting, and lawfully assisting others to vote, using methods 2 that the State has employed safely and securely for years.

3 4. Based on this disinformation, Defendants have launched two parallel 4 schemes to surveil, harass, and intimidate voters at drop boxes to deter them, and those 5 who are lawfully assisting voters, from exercising the right to vote. Both schemes 6 constitute patently unlawful voter intimidation.

7 5. Defendants Lions of Liberty LLC, Yavapai County Preparedness Team, 8 their Defendant members, and others have commenced a widespread campaign to surveil 9 all drop boxes in Yavapai County, film voters, and then report to law enforcement any 10 voters who deposit multiple ballots. On its own, these actions constitute unlawful voter 11 intimidation. But there is more. These Defendants are an offshoot of the Oathkeepers, a 12 group publicly perceived as an extremist, militia group who have openly promoted the 13 idea of a “civil war” and the belief that their political enemies have committed “treason” 14 and “must be held to the most severe consequences of accountability.” And they have 15 promised to conduct their drop box surveillance while armed and wearing Oathkeepers 16 paraphernalia.

17 6. At the same time, Defendant Melody Jennings and Defendant Clean 18 Elections USA have organized a state-wide campaign, “Dropbox Initiative 2022,” to 19 surveil and harass voters at Arizona drop boxes. While promoting the campaign under the 20 pretext of uncovering election crimes, in reality, Defendants Jennings and Clean Elections 21 USA are scheming to baselessly accuse voters of being “mules” and to “dox” them (that 22 is, publicly reveal their personal information online), thereby unjustifiably exposing 23 voters to harm to not only their reputations but also their safety. Already, Defendant 24 Jennings and her co-conspirators have peddled images of innocent voters who have used 25 drop boxes and baselessly claimed that they are “mules” to advance their goal of deterring 26 voters from using drop boxes. Moreover, Defendant Jennings has admitted that her 27 monitors are guarding drop boxes while armed and in tactical gear, and that the purpose 28 of these tactics is to intimidate voters: she has boasted that these tactics are already

1 deterring voters from using drop boxes. Supporters of drop box surveillance have 2 responded in kind, affirming on Twitter that they “will hold round the clock ARMED 3 surveillance of every ballot box in Arizona.”

4 7. The intent and the reasonably foreseeable effect of Defendants’ ongoing 5 campaigns is to intimidate voters and those who will lawfully assist them in exercising 6 their right to vote. Indeed, because of Defendants’ campaigns, Arizona voters who wish 7 to lawfully use drop boxes must do so under threat that they will be monitored by armed 8 vigilantes, have their faces and cars filmed, be baselessly reported to law enforcement, 9 and have their reputations and personal safety put at risk. Such concerns are well founded 10 given that Defendants are deploying tactics that have already subjected other voters to 11 false accusations and doxxing.

12 8. The threat to voters and to democratic participation is steadily increasing 13 with each passing day. Defendant Jennings helped orchestrate an initial stakeout of drop 14 boxes in Phoenix during the August 2, 2022 primary election. She boasted that this initial 15 surveillance was a “dry run” and promised to greatly expand the scope of her group’s 16 surveillance during the general election.

17 9. The promise of increasing disruption has already been borne out. During 18 the initial weeks of early voting, multiple incidents of voter intimidation have been 19 reported in Yavapai and Maricopa Counties. Some members of the League have stopped 20 using external drop boxes due to the ongoing risk of voter intimidation and have voted—21 and advised prospective voters—to vote inside polling locations where security is 22 available.

23 10. Defendants’ schemes are textbook violations of both the Voting Rights Act 24 of 1965 and the Ku Klux Klan Act of 1871. Congress passed both statutes to prevent the 25 very kinds of vigilante-led voter intimidation Defendants are now deploying. Plaintiff 26 League of Women Voters of Arizona brings this case to ensure that Defendants are 27 prevented from engaging in additional acts of intimidation and held accountable for the 28

1 acts of intimidation they have already committed. Relief is urgently needed as early 2 voting is underway with the election in only two weeks.

3 PARTIES

4 11. Plaintiff League of Women Voters of Arizona (“League”) is a domestic 5 nonprofit corporation in Arizona. The League is a non-partisan, grassroots organization 6 that encourages informed and active participation in the democratic process. The League 7 of Women Voters of Arizona is an affiliate of the League of Women Voters of the United 8 States. For over 80 years, the League has dedicated its efforts to protecting and promoting 9 the democratic processes of government through public service, civic participation, and 10 robust voter education and registration. The League consists of both a statewide 11 organization and five local chapters with 900 members statewide, and 90 percent of its 12 members use early voting, including mail-in and drop box voting. The League educates 13 voters about upcoming elections, including the dates and deadlines for early in-person 14 and mail-in voting, as well as the availability of drop box voting in the state; works to 15 encourage individuals to vote; and participates in statewide coalitions with other 16 organizations that share similar goals. The organization envisions a democracy where 17 every person has the desire, the right, the knowledge, and the confidence to participate.
18 Because voter intimidation is a vital issue of concern to League members and the public, 19 the League has diverted money, time, and other resources from its crucial election-year
20 civic engagement and election support programs to address Defendants’ intimidation 21 tactics.

22 12. The League uses many tools to achieve these goals, and when its consensus-23 building and lobbying efforts have proven insufficient, it has participated in litigation to 24 protect the rights of Arizona voters. League volunteers typically help tens of thousands 25 of citizens in Arizona register to vote, check their registration status, update their 26 information, and navigate the system of early in-person and mail-in voting. Throughout 27 the COVID-19 pandemic, the League has provided Arizona citizens with vital voting 28 information through online platforms like VOTE411.org and printed materials, including

1 voter guides. The League continues to encourage Arizona voters to cast their ballot via 2 the mechanism that is safest and most convenient for them, using any of the available
3 early voting options that have been available for decades in Arizona and any of the options 4 to apply for and return a ballot.

5 13. Defendant Lions of Liberty (“LOL”) is a domestic limited liability 6 company (LLC) operating out of Chino Valley, Arizona, which is in Yavapai County.
7 The organization is the “political arm” of Defendant Yavapai County Preparedness Team.
8 According to its website, LOL and its members “are a resolute nucleus of concerned, 9 passionate conservative patriots who are determined to correct the course of our country 10 which has been hijacked and undermined by global elites, communists, leftists, deep state 11 bureaucrats, and fake news.” Defendant LOL and its members openly endorse the idea 12 that their political enemies are guilty of “treason” and “war crimes” and “must be held to 13 the most severe consequences of accountability.” Defendant LOL is one of the chief 14 organizers of Operation: Dropbox, a campaign to surveil, intimidate, and harass voters in 15 Yavapai County and to spread false information about voting rules.

16 14. Defendant Yavapai County Preparedness Team (“YCPT”) is an Arizona 17 spinoff of the extremist organization, the Oathkeepers. While publicly describing itself as 18 a survivalist organization, YCPT is in reality an extremist, militia-like group that 19 promotes the idea of a coming civil war in America. Members of Defendant YCPT are 20 known to attend public events while armed to intimidate their political opponents. YCPT 21 is a chief co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

22 15. Defendant Jim Arroyo is a resident of Chino Valley, Arizona, the leader 23 of the YCPT, the former vice president of Arizona’s chapter of the Oath Keepers, and one 24 of the seven board members of LOL. Arroyo is a co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

25 16. Defendant Lucas (Luke) Cilano is a resident of Arizona and the registered 26 agent of LOL. Cilano describes himself as the group’s public face, being generally 27 responsible for running its public meetings and interfacing with local media and is one of 28 the organization’s seven board members. In his capacity as a leader of LOL, Cilano is a

1 co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box. As part of the broader conspiracy to intimidate 2 voters at drop boxes, Defendant Cilano has openly spread misinformation about the 3 legality of drop box voting.

4 17. Defendant Brian Mounsey is a resident of Chino Valley, Arizona, and one 5 of the seven board members of LOL alongside his twin brother Bruce. Defendant
6 Mounsey is a co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

7 18. Defendant Bruce Mounsey is a resident of Chino Valley, Arizona, and one 8 of the seven board members of LOL alongside his twin brother Brian. Defendant
9 Mounsey is a co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

10 19. Defendant Nicholas (Nick) Cilano is a resident of Prescott Valley, 11 Arizona, and one of the seven board members of LOL. Defendant Cilano is a co-organizer 12 of Operation: Drop Box.

13 20. Defendant James Johnson is a resident of Arizona and one of the seven 14 board members of LOL. Defendant Johnson is a co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

15 21. Defendant Toby Fox is a resident of Arizona and one of the seven board 16 members of LOL. Defendant Fox is a co-organizer of Operation: Drop Box.

17 22. Defendant Melody Jennings is a founder of the organization Clean 18 Elections USA and a chief organizer of its Dropbox Initiative 2022, a campaign to surveil, 19 intimidate, and harass voters during the 2022 election in Arizona and to spread 20 disinformation about the legality of drop box voting. Defendant Jennings uses her large 21 social media platform to amplify election-related conspiracy theories and to recruit for 22 and amplify drop box surveillance in Arizona and elsewhere. Her social media handle is 23 @TrumperMel and she has over 35,000 followers.

24 23. Defendant Clean Elections USA (“CE-USA”) is an organization founded 25 by Defendant Jennings. According to its website, Defendant CE-USA is “a grassroots 26 organization committed to election integrity.” In reality, Defendant CE-USA is an 27 amplifier of conspiracy theories regarding voter fraud and the legality of drop box voting.
28 Defendant CE-USA actively fundraises for its efforts by amplifying election lies and

1 other conspiracies. Along with Defendant Jennings, Defendant CE-USA is planning, 2 coordinating, and recruiting for Dropbox Initiative 2022. Defendant CE-USA uses its 3 website and online platform to publicize and recruit for Dropbox Initiative 2022.

4 24. Doe Defendants 1 to 10 are individuals working in concert with the 5 aforementioned named Defendants as volunteers and co-conspirators in the surveillance 6 of drop boxes in Arizona and the monitoring and recording of drop box voters.

7 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

8 I. Defendants and others conspire and take substantial steps to intimidate voters 9 in the 2022 election

10 25. For months, Defendants and others have been actively planning, 11 coordinating, and recruiting for widespread campaigns to surveil, intimidate, and harass 12 Arizona voters at ballot drop boxes, baselessly accuse them—directly or indirectly—of 13 committing voter fraud, and spread false information about legally valid forms of voting.

14 26. Defendants’ campaign is inspired by a thoroughly debunked conspiracy 15 theory that so-called “mules” illegally deposited large numbers of ballots at drop boxes 16 to steal the 2020 election in various closely contested states, including Arizona. This 17 conspiracy theory stems from the widely seen 2022 film, 2000 Mules, which claims to 18 show evidence—including surveillance footage—of “mules” illegally depositing ballots.

19 27. The “mules” conspiracy theory and the supposed “methodology” on which 20 it is premised has been thoroughly and consistently debunked.¹ Indeed, both former

26 ¹ See, e.g., Reuters Fact Check, Fact Check-Does ‘2000 Mules’ provide evidence of 27 voter fraud in the 2020 U.S. presidential election?, Reuters (May 27, 2022), 28 <https://www.reuters.com/article/factcheck-usa-mules/fact-check-does-2000-mules-provide-evidence-of-voter-fraud-in-the-2020-u-s-presidential-election-idUSL2N2XJ0OQ>.

1 United States Attorney General William Barr² and Arizona Attorney General Mark
2 Brnovich³ have publicly acknowledged that there is no evidence to support the theory.

3 28. Nevertheless, the damage to voters baselessly accused of misconduct in 4 2000 Mules has been severe. As the unsubstantiated claims in the documentary spread 5 online, viewers began to circulate viral images of the drop box voters and election
6 officials portrayed in the film.⁴ In one example, activists superimposed over the image 7 of an older woman leaving a ballot drop box in Georgia’s suburban Gwinnett County the 8 word “WANTED.” The revised image, which spread virally online, stated: “Ballot mule.
9 If you can ID her, call Gwinnett Co. sheriff’s office.” It also included the Sheriff’s badge 10 and the sheriff office’s phone number. The Gwinnett County Sheriff’s Office has 11 confirmed that the image is fake and it had no involvement in producing the online 12 “WANTED” poster. Some activists have called for physical violence against the voters 13 depicted in 2000 Mules, along with posting images of those voters and identifying 14 information, such as their license plates, online.

15 29. Despite the flimsiness of the underlying allegations, the “mules” theory has 16 gained significant traction amongst election deniers across the country, especially in 17 Arizona, and has incited them to organize campaigns to surveil ballot drop boxes and 18 record images of voters in the 2022 election to prove that “mules” are seeking to illegally 19 deposit ballots.⁵ A vigilante tactic arising out of the 2000 Mules documentary is to 20 publicize photos of individuals (and their cars and license plates) who have purportedly

1 voted illegally—which in turn subjects those voters to harassment and threats—and use 2 that publication to uncover additional “mules” and deter future drop box voting.

3 30. At present, Defendants have, respectively, conspired to organize, 4 coordinate, recruit for, and execute two such surveillance-and-intimidation campaigns in 5 Arizona. While organized under the banner of finding “mules” and uncovering voter 6 fraud, these surveillance-and-intimidation campaigns are simply modern-day efforts to 7 engage in illegal voter intimidation by forcing voters who want to cast their ballots by 8 drop box to do so while being surveilled by vigilantes and under the threat that they will 9 be baselessly accused of voter fraud. Regardless of the falsity of any of the theories 10 advanced in 2000 Mules or other disinformation that has inspired Defendants and other 11 conspirators, and regardless of whether Defendants believe those election conspiracy 12 theories, Defendants’ conduct is unlawful voter intimidation, directly analogous to 13 conduct that courts have found to be unlawful in the past. Further, as part of Defendants’ 14 respective surveillance-and-intimidation campaigns, Defendants and their agents are also 15 knowingly distributing false information about voting by drop box to intimidate and 16 prevent citizens from engaging in lawful voting practices.

17 A. Operation: Drop Box

18 31. Defendants LOL, YCPT, Jim Arroyo, Luke Cilano, Nick Cilano, Brian 19 Mounsey, Toby Fox, Bruce Mounsey, James Johnson, and various John Does, have 20 organized a large-scale voter surveillance-and-intimidation campaign in Yavapai County, 21 Arizona, called “Operation: Drop Box.” Explicitly inspired by the “mules” conspiracy 22 theory, Defendants represent that the purpose of their campaign is to “secure our election 23 from those who would cause this country harm” by engaging in “ballot box stuffing.”
24
25
26
27
28

32. Specifically, Defendants plan to have “patriots” (in their words) take shifts to monitor all drop boxes in Yavapai County and observe whether any voter deposits multiple ballots. Defendants are instructing their volunteers to bring a camera or telephone to their shift and, in the event they witness a voter deposit more than one ballot, to “take a picture of them, their car, and their license plate.” Defendants then intend to report these voters to the Yavapai County Sheriff who, according to Defendants, “is already aware of what we are doing and will do what he can.”

33. Defendants have publicly affirmed their intent to photograph and report these individuals to law enforcement notwithstanding the fact that Arizona law expressly allows individuals to deposit multiple ballots in a number of different scenarios. See Ariz. Rev. Stat. § 16-1005(I).

34. For example, Arizona law specifically allows a caregiver to deposit ballots on behalf of those to whom they provide care. A caregiver includes a person who provides medical or health care assistance to any voter in a residence, nursing care institution, hospice facility, assisted living center, assisted living facility, assisted living home, residential care institution, adult day health care facility, or adult foster care home. Id. § 16-1005(I)(2)(a). Yavapai and Maricopa Counties are home to numerous facilities—

1 including nursing care facilities and rehabilitation facilities—where individuals may rely 2 on their caretakers to deposit their votes.

3 35. In addition to caregivers, Arizona law also allows family members (defined 4 as “a person who is related to the voter by blood, marriage, adoption, or legal 5 guardianship”) to deposit ballots on their family members’ behalf. Id. § 16-1005(I)(2)(c).

6 36. Arizona law also specifically provides that a household member (defined 7 as “a person who resides at the same residence as the voter”) may deposit the ballots of 8 other household members. Id. § 16-1005(I)(2)(d).

9 37. In their instructions to volunteers and public statements, Defendants do not 10 account for these lawful bases for depositing multiple ballots. In fact, upon information 11 and belief, Defendants have falsely represented that depositing multiple ballots is always 12 illegal.⁶

13 38. Neither Defendants nor their volunteers will be able to determine whether 14 people who deposit ballots are doing so lawfully as caregivers, family members, or 15 household members of a voter. Nevertheless, Defendants and their volunteers intend to 16 photograph and report these individuals to law enforcement despite lacking any evidence 17 of wrongdoing.

18 39. In addition, Defendants have repeatedly and publicly affirmed these plans 19 in both local and national media, thereby creating an air of fear and anxiety amongst 20 voters who rely on drop boxes to have their votes cast and counted. In fact, in response to 21 a cease-and-desist letter sent by Plaintiff’s counsel explaining that their surveillance-and-22 intimidation tactics constituted illegal voter intimidation, Defendants issued a public 23 statement informing their members that they had come “to the unanimous decision to 24 proceed forward with [the] operation.” In that same statement, Defendants invoked the 25

26 ⁶ Vyto Starinskas, Ballot ‘Drop Watch’ won’t intimidate voters, says ‘Lion’, Verde
27 Valley Indep. & Camp Verde Bugle (Oct. 5, 2022), 28 <https://www.verdenews.com/news/2022/oct/05/ballot-drop-watch-wont-intimidate-voters-says-lion> (Defendant Cilano claiming that “[i]t is illegal in Arizona to put more than one ballot in the box other than your own”).

1 language of war, comparing themselves, their volunteers, and their tactics to the 2 Revolutionary War and its fighters.

3 40. While Defendants’ plans to surveil and report voters on its own will have 4 the natural and foreseeable consequence of intimidating voters, that intimidation will be 5 compounded exponentially by other alarming aspects of Defendants’ plans. For example, 6 Defendant Arroyo has publicly affirmed that their drop box observers may be armed.⁷

7 41. Moreover, Defendants are also encouraging drop box observers to wear 8 gear that publicly associates them with the extremist militia group, the Oathkeepers, of 9 which YCPT is a spinoff. For example, Defendant Arroyo has encouraged volunteers to 10 wear their Oathkeepers gear while monitoring drop boxes, explaining: “Your shirts and 11 hats are what tell the world you’re not ashamed to be an Oath Keeper, or afraid of the 12 government just because of that crap that happened on January the 6th, which was 13 completely staged.”⁸

14 42. In addition, Defendants’ deep ties to extremist groups and their own public 15 statements endorsing political violence against their political opponents will further 16 exacerbate voters’ reasonable fears about casting ballots at drop boxes. For example, 17 Defendant YCPT is an Arizona-based spinoff of the Oathkeepers, the extremist militia 18 group that helped storm the U.S. Capitol on January 6, 2021. Upon information and belief, 19 Defendant YCPT is amongst the largest—if not the largest—ofshoots of the Oathkeepers 20 in the county. Defendant YCPT and its members openly promote the idea of a “civil war” 21 and the belief that their political enemies have committed “treason” and “must be held to 22 the most severe consequences of accountability.” Indeed, a survey of Defendant YCPT’s 23 meetings found that the group discussed civil war in all but one of their 22 recruitment 24 meetings during that period, and mentioned guns or firearms in every single meeting.

2 “political arm” of YCPT. Defendant Arroyo, who is the leader of YCPT, has openly 3 promoted his belief that the country exists in a state of undeclared civil war, and has 4 boasted about the extent to which YCPT is connected to local law enforcement.

5 B. Dropbox Initiative 2022

6 43. Defendant Jennings and Defendant Clean Elections USA (“CE-USA”), 7 along with various John Does, have conspired to organize and execute another large-scale 8 campaign to surveil and harass voters at Arizona drop boxes. Dubbed “Dropbox Initiative 9 2022,” the campaign is actively recruiting volunteer “patriots,” and actively conspiring 10 and coordinating with them, to surveil and harass voters at drop boxes in Arizona and 11 every other state with drop boxes to, in Defendants’ words, “gather video (and live 12 witness evidence) of any ballot tampering that takes place in real time.” Defendants are 13 hoping to have at least ten monitors at each drop box.¹⁰

14 44. Defendant CE-USA’s website repeatedly references the “mules” 15 conspiracy as inspiration for Dropbox Initiative 2022. Defendant Jennings has made clear 16 that her and Defendant CE-USA’s goal is to “dox” voters that Defendants and their 17 volunteers determine are “mules”:

45. Defendants Jennings and CE-USA began organizing drop box surveillance during the 2022 summer primary, referring to it as the campaign’s “first run” before the general election.¹¹ Social media postings regarding those surveillance activities—which Defendant Jennings has claimed credit for—makes clear that Defendants’ surveillance-and-intimidation tactics indeed had an intimidating effect on voters during the primary, with one post declaring: “We ram [sic] one mule off just by being there”

46. In the run-up to the November 8 election, Defendants Jennings and CE-USA are continuing to actively recruit and coordinate with volunteers for their surveillance-and-intimidation campaign on platforms used by election deniers and extremist groups. For example, Defendants are actively recruiting volunteers on Truth Social, a social media platform well-known for disseminating election-related conspiracy theories. Further, in an October 17, 2022 appearance on Steve Bannon’s War Room, Defendant Jennings made clear that she ensures all monitors are “one of us,” implying that she is only recruiting volunteers who already believe in the “mules” conspiracy theory.

47. As with Operation Drop Box, neither Defendants Jennings and CE-USA nor any of the volunteers or other co-conspirators working on Dropbox Initiative 2022 will have any good-faith basis to conclude that a voter who deposits multiple ballots is doing so illegally, because, as noted above, Arizona law specifically permits voters to deposit multiple ballots in a number of circumstances.

48. Nevertheless, Defendants Jennings and CE-USA, along with their agents and John Doe co-conspirators, have formally launched their surveillance-and-intimidation campaign and begun to accuse voters, without evidence, of illegal activity.

¹¹ Hsu & Thompson, supra.

1 49. For example, on October 17, Defendant Jennings called for additional 2 volunteers to surveil drop boxes in Mesa and Phoenix, alleging that her “crew” had 3 spotted a “mule”:

15 50. On the same day, Defendant Jennings also posted another highly shared 16 social media post showing camera footage of a voter, implying (without evidence) that 17 the voter was engaged in illegal activity:

1 51. Former President Trump has also shared a number of Defendant Jennings’ 2 Truth Social posts concerning Dropbox Initiative 2022, including this one stating that an 3 individual had “[p]ulled ballots out of his shirt.”

27 52. On October 19, a local ABC reporter showed footage from that morning of 28 Defendants’ agents surveilling and filming the drop boxes at the Maricopa County Tabulation and Election Center (MCTEC) in Phoenix.¹² Defendant Jennings then made another call to her and Defendant CE-USA’s followers: “CBS NBC and others out in force filming our people at the Mesa Arizona drop box. We are filming them back. Get out there people. Let’s go watch that box and make there [sic] heads pop.”¹³ Following this, the ABC reporter that filmed the Defendants’ volunteers received a number of threats

1 over social media, including threats to her life and accusations that she was working with 2 the “mules.”¹⁴

3 53. In addition to in-person intimidation and harassment of voters at drop 4 boxes, Defendant Jennings has also deployed other means of intimidating voters and 5 implying that lawful voters are committing election crimes. For example, Defendant
6 Jennings has openly promoted and amplified intimidating images from an anonymous 7 group, Ben Sent Us, which has been circulating flyers that threaten voters and Democratic 8 Party officials.

19 20 II. Defendants’ Tactics Are Already Intimidating Voters

21 54. Defendants’ tactics are already having the natural and foreseeable 22 consequences of intimidating Arizona voters. Since the beginning of early voting, there 23 have been numerous reports of intimidating incidents in both Yavapai and Maricopa 24 Counties.

25 55. On the evening of October 17, a voter reported that he was intimidated by 26 drop box monitors outside the Maricopa County Juvenile Court when he went to drop off

1 his ballot. According to the voter, a group of people were loitering near the ballot drop 2 box and began filming and photographing him and his wife. The voter reported that the 3 individuals accused him of being a “mule,” photographed his license plate, and then 4 followed him out of the parking lot while continuing to film. The voter reported the 5 incident to the Secretary of State’s office. A subsequent Truth Social post by Defendant 6 Jennings confirmed that the individuals who intimidated the voter were volunteers
7 working with her and Defendant CE-USA.¹⁵

8 56. On October 19, a voter attempted to deposit his and his wife’s ballots at the 9 MCTEC drop box when he noticed a group of individuals with tripods and cameras 10 filming him. As he drove through the parking lot, he noticed the individuals following 11 him using their camera. This voter likewise complained about the intimidating conduct to 12 the Secretary of State’s office, and this complaint included photographs of the monitors.
13 These individuals also separately confirmed to a reporter that they were volunteers with 14 Defendant CE-USA.¹⁶

15 57. On October 20, a 70-year-old voter and his wife attempted to deposit their 16 ballots at the drop boxes outside the Maricopa County Juvenile Court when they were 17 approached by a group of five or six men in their 20s and 30s. After depositing their 18 ballots, the group began taking photographs of the couple, their car and license plate, and 19 told the couple that they were taking photos for “election security.” The individuals 20 continued to film the couple and their car as they departed. This voter likewise reported 21 the intimidating conduct to the Secretary of State’s office.

22 58. On October 21, two armed individuals dressed in tactical gear, and who 23 apparently were also carrying magazine clips, were onsite at a ballot box in Mesa. On her 24 Truth Social page, Defendant Jennings claimed responsibility for these individuals:

59. At least two additional intimidation episodes were reported on October 21. In one instance, a senior citizen attempted to vote at a drop box at the MCTEC when he noticed that a man with a large camera on a tripod was filming him, including by focusing the camera on the voter’s face and license plate. The individual also filmed the voter as they deposited their ballot into the drop box. The voter reported the complaint to the Secretary of State and noted that the incident was intimidating.

60. Also on October 21, another voter likewise reported feeling “very intimidated and scared” because a man with camera was filming the voter and their license plate when depositing ballots at the MCTEC. The voter reported being photographed throughout the time they were on the grounds until leaving. This voter reported being “fearful of what he or his organization will do with [his] plate number.”

61. On October 22, another voter reported to the Secretary of State that people were feeling “nervous” about an individual monitoring drop boxes at the juvenile court in Mesa.

62. Meanwhile in Yavapai County, voters and League members have reported similar groups of individuals congregating around drop boxes in an intimidating and disconcerting manner.

1 63. These incidents likely represent only a fraction of those individuals who 2 have already been or ultimately will be intimidated by Defendants’ surveillance-and-3 intimidation tactics absent court intervention. Indeed, these reported incidents of 4 intimidation at the ballot boxes do not account for the untold number of Arizonans who—5 as a result of Defendants’ falsehoods about voting and threats to surveil and harass—have 6 decided not to cast their ballots at drop boxes or lawfully assist others in doing so. Indeed, 7 the League’s members in Yavapai County have reported that due to Defendants’ plans to 8 surveil drop boxes, they have had to advise voters who were afraid to use drop box 9 locations for fear of a confrontation with vigilante observers.

10 64. Alarming, Defendants have promised to progressively escalate their 11 surveillance and disruption in the days leading up to the general election. Defendant 12 Jennings said that the initial surveillance she coordinated during the Arizona primary was 13 a “dry run” for an expanded vigilante operation during the general election.

14 65. Further, not only are Defendants aware that their surveillance tactics will 15 have the natural and foreseeable consequence of intimidating voters, but they have 16 explicitly stated that their intention is to intimidate voters. For example, in a recent Truth 17 Social post, referring to filming near drop boxes, Defendant Jennings explicitly stated:
18 “What’s super fun is that they are being incredible deterrents to mules!”

19 66. Even Arizona politicians who have openly encouraged drop box 20 surveillance have explicitly acknowledged that Defendants’ tactics are for the purpose of 21 intimidating voters. For example, Mark Finchem, who is running for Secretary of State, 22 has said, “The mere fact you are there watching scares the hell out of them.”¹⁷

23 67. At the same time, Arizona politicians have acknowledged that Defendants’ 24 tactics might constitute illegal voter intimidation. For example, on October 24, State 25 Senator Townsend acknowledged in a social media post that some of the surveillance

1 tactics being deployed could constitute intimidation: “I should not have to say this but 2 wearing tactical gear while watching a ballot drop box could be considered voter 3 intimidation.”¹⁸

4 III. Plaintiff League of Women Voters of Arizona and Its Members Have Been 5 Injured by Defendants’ Intimidation Campaigns

6 68. The League’s mission of educating voters and encouraging them to vote has 7 been directly frustrated by Defendants’ actions. Voter surveillance and harassment 8 sharply curtails citizens’ willingness to participate in the democratic process and thereby 9 impedes the League’s mission to expand and facilitate exercise of the franchise.

10 69. Furthermore, Defendants’ conduct has caused and will continue to cause 11 the League to divert resources away from its core mission of registering voters and 12 encouraging voter participation. The League has earmarked funds to hire staff to assist 13 with communications efforts, outreach to voters, and management of social media. In the 14 wake of the evolving crisis over drop box surveillance, the League has had to divert the 15 work of those staffers towards preparing and communicating know your rights materials 16 to voters focusing on the right to vote without intimidation. The League has also had to 17 divert time and effort of staff and volunteers to developing protocols for tracking 18 misconduct by drop box vigilantes and providing voters with information about how to 19 report voter intimidation. Senior staff of the League have had to adjust their focus from 20 traditional voter mobilization efforts to respond to the drop box vigilante crisis as 21 members have had increasing concerns about drop box intimidation. And the League has 22 also had to expend roughly $ 2,000 to send text messages to its list of more than 200,000 23 women voters advising them of their rights related to voter intimidation.

24 70. Furthermore, League members have been directly impacted by drop box 25 intimidation. Voters and League members rely on drop box voting throughout Arizona.
26 But many League members who have voted using drop boxes in the past will no longer

1 use that method for the 2022 general election due to surveillance, intimidation, and 2 harassment by Defendants and their agents. Drop boxes are particularly important in rural 3 areas such as Yavapai County where mail is less reliable. But because of Defendants' 4 intimidation campaign, League members in Yavapai County have had to educate voters 5 who were too afraid to vote at drop box locations due to concerns about security and 6 invasion of privacy regarding alternate options for voting.

7 CAUSES OF ACTION

8 Count 1: Section 11(b) of the Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10307(b)

9 71. Plaintiff incorporates and realleges all preceding paragraphs as if set forth 10 fully herein.

11 72. Section 11(b) of the Voting Rights Act (“VRA”) of 1965 provides that:

12 No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intimidate, 13 threaten, or coerce, or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any person 14 for voting or attempting to vote, or intimidate, threaten, or coerce, or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any person for urging or aiding any person to vote or attempt to vote

15 52 U.S.C. § 10307(b).

16 73. Defendants, along with their agents and various John Does, are violating 17 Section 11(b) of the VRA by taking actions that would intimidate a reasonable voter.

18 74. These actions include but are not limited to: spreading disinformation about 19 legal voting methods to intimidate and mislead voters and those who will assist them; 20 organizing, coordinating, and widely promoting a voter-surveillance campaign at ballot 21 drop boxes in Arizona; instructing volunteers to surveil, film, and/or photograph voters 22 and their license plates; encouraging volunteers to accuse voters of engaging in unlawful 23 voting when they have no reasonable basis for such accusations; instructing volunteers to 24 report voters to law enforcement; subjecting voters to the possibility that they will be 25 publicly and baselessly accused of voter fraud by having their images and the images of 26 their cars publicized (which will foreseeably lead to threats of violence against them as 27 well as harassment and other harm); promising to “dox” voters; actually accusing voters 28 of engaging in voter fraud without a reasonable basis on social media and other means;

1 recruiting volunteers for their voter-surveillance campaign through extremist networks 2 that already promote and amplify unfounded conspiracies about voter fraud; encouraging 3 or instructing their agents to be armed or to wear paraphernalia that associates them with 4 extremist organizations; and inciting others to engage in unlawful voter intimidation even 5 if they are not directly participating in Defendants' surveillance campaigns.

6 75. Additionally, the publicity accompanying Defendants' words and actions, 7 and their consistent use of heated and violent rhetoric, are clear attempts to incite others 8 to threaten, intimidate, and coerce Plaintiff's members and other eligible voters, and 9 require Plaintiff to divert resources to respond to these threats, intimidation, and coercion, 10 in further violation of Section 11(b). The threats, intimidation, and coercion from others 11 are reasonably foreseeable (indeed, nearly guaranteed) direct consequences of 12 Defendants' actions.

13 76. Not only is intimidation the natural and foreseeable consequence of 14 Defendants' actions, but more so, Defendants have engaged in this conduct with the 15 subjective intent to threaten, intimidate, and coerce voters and those lawfully aiding 16 eligible voters, and with the knowledge that the natural consequences of their conduct 17 and speech will be the intimidation of such voters and those lawfully aiding voters.

18 77. Defendants' unlawful actions have already actually intimidated Plaintiff's 19 members, other eligible voters, and those lawfully aiding persons attempting to vote; and 20 their actions have dissuaded these individuals from exercising their lawful right to vote 21 or aid persons attempting to vote. These actions have also required Plaintiff to divert 22 resources from its primary mission to respond to this voter intimidation crisis. These 23 actions would also intimidate an objectively reasonable voter and discourage such a voter 24 from attempting to vote or attempting to lawfully aid a voter.

25 78. Defendants' conduct as described herein plainly violates Section 11(b) and 26 should be temporarily and permanently enjoined.

27 79. Unless enjoined by the Court, Defendants will continue to violate Section 28 11(b) by spreading election falsehoods and continuing to organize, coordinate, amplify,

1 and encourage voter surveillance and harassment campaigns, thereby intimidating 2 eligible voters from exercising their constitutional right to vote and lawfully aiding others 3 in need of assistance voting.

4 Count 2: Section 2 of the Ku Klux Klan Act, 42 U.S.C. §1985(3)

5 80. Plaintiff incorporates and realleges all preceding paragraphs as if set forth 6 fully herein.

7 81. Plaintiff brings this claim under Section 2 of the Ku Klux Klan Act of 1871 8 (“Klan Act”), 42 U.S.C. § 1985(3) clauses 3 and 4, which prohibits conspiracies to 9 intimidate citizens for their support or advocacy for a candidate and provides a remedy 10 for anyone injured on account of their support or advocacy. Specifically, Section 1985(3) 11 provides, in relevant part:

12 if two or more persons conspire to [3] prevent by force, intimidation, or 13 threat, any citizen who is lawfully entitled to vote, from giving his support 14 or advocacy in a legal manner, toward or in favor of the election of any 15 lawfully qualified person as an elector for President or Vice President, or 16 as a Member of Congress of the United States; or [4] to injure any citizen in person or property on account of such support or advocacy; . . . the party so injured or deprived may have an action for recovery of damages occasioned by such injury or deprivation, against any one or more of the conspirators.

17 42 U.S.C. § 1985(3).

18 82. Defendants have violated Section 1985(3).

19 83. Defendants have conspired with one another, their agents, and various John 20 Does, to intimidate voters by organizing, coordinating, promoting, and executing the 21 voter-surveillance, harassment, and intimidation campaigns described herein to 22 intimidate and threaten Plaintiff, its members, and other Arizona citizens who are lawfully 23 entitled to vote, with the purpose of trying to prevent them from showing their support or 24 advocacy for candidates for federal office in the 2022 midterm election and to injure them 25 on account of such support or advocacy.

26 84. Defendants formed an agreement with one another, as well as their co-27 conspirators, agents, and various John Does, to launch their voter-surveillance and 28 intimidation campaigns to surveil voters when they cast their ballots, subject them to the

1 threat that they would be baselessly accused of engaging in voter fraud, and otherwise 2 harass and intimidate citizens who vote by drop box. Defendants themselves have also 3 taken—and encouraged their agents to take—additional actions that, when taken together, 4 would intimidate a reasonable voter, including but not limited to: spreading 5 disinformation regarding lawful voting practices to prevent voting; expressly calling 6 voters “mules” or implying that they are “mules” or otherwise falsely suggesting voters 7 are engaged in unlawful behavior; carrying weapons; wearing threatening paraphernalia; 8 recruiting volunteers from extremist networks and/or networks of individuals who believe 9 in the lie of mass voter fraud; following voters when they cast or attempt to cast their 10 ballots; photographing and/or filming voters and/or their cars and license plates; posting 11 or threatening to post images of voters and/or their cars and license plates on the internet 12 and/or social media with baseless accusations of voter fraud; baselessly calling law 13 enforcement on voters; and threatening to “dox” voters.

14 85. Defendants have taken multiple overt actions in furtherance of this 15 conspiracy to intimidate voters, including but not limited to: spreading falsehoods about 16 lawful voting practices; broadly publicizing their voter-surveillance campaigns; 17 recruiting volunteers for their campaigns; deploying the intimidating surveillance and 18 harassment tactics described herein; encouraging their agents to be armed and wear 19 intimidating paraphernalia while engaged in surveillance of voters; encouraging the 20 “dox”-ing of voters; baselessly accusing voters of engaging in voter fraud; and 21 threatening to incite threats against and harassment of voters by posting the voters’ images 22 online along with baseless accusations of voter fraud.

23 86. Defendants intended to intimidate voters and also knew or should have 24 known that their conduct would intimidate a reasonable voter.

25 87. By threatening to watch, videotape, photograph, falsely accuse, harass, and 26 report to law enforcement individuals lawfully depositing more than one ballot in a drop 27 box, Defendants hoped to deter these constitutionally eligible voters from voting in the 28 election, and to deter those lawfully assisting voters from providing that assistance.

1 Moreover, by publicizing their voter-surveillance campaigns through multiple traditional 2 and social media outlets using incendiary rhetoric, Defendants aimed to foment fear 3 among Arizona voters that they could be targeted with violence, harassment, and 4 accusations of crimes just for legally casting a vote, and that they might be subject to 5 further defamation, harassment, and threats by having their image posted online along 6 with false accusations of crimes.

7 88. Defendants' conspiracy has already intimidated Plaintiff's members and 8 other voters, and would intimidate an objectively reasonable individual, and thereby 9 discourage or prevent lawful voters from attempting to vote and those who would assist 10 voters from providing that assistance.

11 89. Plaintiff League has been and continues to be injured by Defendants' 12 intimidating conduct, because it impedes one of the League's core goals: the promotion 13 of active participation in government, including through voting. Instead of engaging in 14 its ordinary-course initiatives, the League must devote time and resources to combat the 15 false narrative that individuals dropping off more than one ballot at a drop box are 16 engaged in illegal voter fraud and to assist voters who are scared of being confronted by 17 vigilantes at drop boxes. The League has expended substantial time and effort combatting 18 Defendants' false rhetoric and was required to divert significant resources to combatting 19 and remedying those harms.

20 90. Unless enjoined by the Court, Defendants, and those acting in concert and 21 privity with them, will continue to violate Section 1985(3) by continuing to engage in 22 voter surveillance, harassment, threats, and other unlawful intimidation tactics described 23 herein in a manner that intimidates and attempts to intimidate constitutionally eligible 24 voters and those who lawfully assist voters.

25 91. Plaintiff, its members, and other eligible Arizona voters have been and will 26 continue to be injured by Defendants' unlawful actions unless this Court grants relief.

27

28

1 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

2 Plaintiff prays for relief as follows:

3 1. That the Court declare that Defendants have violated Section 11(b) of the 4 Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10307(b);

5 2. That the Court declare that Defendants have violated 42 U.S.C. § 1985(3);

6 3. That the Court temporarily and permanently enjoin Defendants and anyone 7 acting in concert or privity with them, including but not limited to all volunteers, agents, 8 and unnamed co-conspirators, from further intimidating voters or otherwise violating the 9 law;

10 4. That the Court award compensatory and consequential damages in an 11 amount to be determined at trial to compensate Plaintiff for the injuries it has suffered as 12 a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct;

13 5. That the Court award punitive damages as provided by law and as proved 14 at trial to punish Defendants for intimidating voters;

15 6. That the Court award attorneys' fees and litigation costs to Plaintiff's 16 attorneys;

17 7. That the Court retain jurisdiction to ensure Defendants' ongoing 18 compliance with its orders;

19 8. That the Court grant all other and further relief as it may deem necessary 20 and appropriate.
