5. Legislative Defendants Timothy K. Moore¹ and Philip E. Berger are sued in their official capacities only, as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives and President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate respectively.

¹ Speaker Moore will not return to the General Assembly for the 2025-2026 legislative session, as he was recently elected to Congress. Legislative Defendants will notify the Court and all parties of the new Speaker upon his or her election.

6. The North Carolina State Board of Elections (“State Board”) and its members are sued in their official capacities only.
7. Following each decennial census, the General Assembly must redraw the districts for the North Carolina House of Representatives, the North Carolina Senate, and North Carolina’s Congressional districts.
8. In North Carolina, legislative redistricting maps are enacted exclusively by the General Assembly. The Governor of North Carolina has no power to veto redistricting bills.
9. On February 12, 2021, the U.S. Census Bureau announced that its release of Public Law 94-171 redistricting data would be delayed by the COVID-19 pandemic, and would not be released until the fall of 2021, and specifically that it would deliver the P.L. 94-171 redistricting data to all states by September 30, 2021.²
10. On August 12, 2021, the U.S. Census Bureau released the 2020 Census Redistricting Data (P.L. 94-171) Summary File for all states, including North Carolina, in “legacy” format.³
11. On Thursday, August 5, 2021, at 2:00 p.m., the Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections convened a Joint Meeting of the Senate Redistricting and Elections Committee and the House Redistricting Committee to begin discussion of the redistricting process.

12. On Monday, August 9, 2021, the redistricting chairs of the joint committees released the “2021 Joint Redistricting Committee Proposed Criteria.” After receiving public comment on the Proposed Criteria, on August 12, 2021, the House Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections (together the “Joint Redistricting Committees”) adopted criteria (the “2021 Criteria”) to guide the enactment of new redistricting plans for North Carolina House and Senate Districts as well as Congressional Districts. See <https://webservices.ncleg.gov/ViewDocSiteFile/38467>.
13. On Wednesday, September 1, 2021, the Joint Redistricting Committees announced a Joint Public Hearing Schedule, that consisted of 13 public hearings to be held from September 8, 2021 through September 30, 2021.
14. On Tuesday, October 5, 2021, the Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections and the House Committee on Redistricting each convened separately. In both meetings, the Redistricting Chairs announced utilization of county groupings described in the academic paper N.C. General Assembly County Clusterings from the 2020 Census (the “Duke Academic Paper”), published on the Duke University website “Quantifying Gerrymandering.”⁴
15. A placeholder version of the state House Map was filed on Thursday, October 28, 2021, as House Bill 976 (“H.B. 976”) where it passed its first reading. A committee substitute (“HBK-14”) received a favorable review and, after one amendment, passed its second and third readings in the House and its first reading in the Senate on November 2, 2021. It received a favorable report from the Senate Redistricting Committee on November 3, 2021, without alteration and passed its second and third readings on November 4, 2021. H.B. 976 was ratified into law on November 4, 2021, as S.L. 2021-175.

16. A proposed version of the state Senate map (“SST-13”) was filed on Friday, October 29, 2021, as Senate Bill 739 (“S.B. 739”). It passed its first reading on November 1, 2021, and was referred to the Senate Redistricting Committee that day. On November 2, 2021, the Senate Redistricting Committee adopted a substitute along party lines (“SBK-7”). On November 2, 2021, Senator Ben Clark offered two amendments to the bill, Senator Natasha Marcus offered two amendments to the bill, and Senator Dan Blue offered four amendments to the bill. The Committee adopted one of Senator Clark’s amendments and rejected the other, adopted one of Senator Marcus’s amendments and displaced the other, and rejected all of Senator Blue’s amendments. S.B. 739 passed its second and third readings in the Senate on November 3, 2021, along party lines, and passed all three readings and the House Redistricting Committee without any further alteration on November 3–4, 2021. S.B. 739 was ratified into law on November 4, 2021, as S.L. 2021-173.

17. Challenges to the 2021 North Carolina House, Senate, and Congressional Redistricting Plans (the “2021 Plans”) were soon filed in state court by three groups of plaintiffs. Each plaintiff group challenged the 2021 Plans as unconstitutional partisan gerrymanders under the North Carolina Constitution. The challenges to the 2021 Plans were consolidated and assigned to a three-judge panel in Wake County Superior Court. On January 11, 2022, the three-judge panel entered a judgment concluding that the consolidated plaintiffs’ partisan gerrymandering claims presented nonjusticiable political questions. All consolidated plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court.
18. On February 4, 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court issued a Remedial Order that adopted the three-judge panel’s findings of fact, but reversed the three-judge panel’s conclusion that the claims were nonjusticiable, instead finding that the 2021 Plans violated the North Carolina Constitution. The Remedial Order also required that the General Assembly draw new plans by February 18, 2022. The Remedial Order also required that the three-judge panel either approve or adopt compliant congressional and state legislative districting plans by 12:00 pm on February 23, 2022. On February 14, 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court issued a full opinion explaining its order. Harper v. Hall, 380 N.C. 317, 868 S.E.2d 499 (2022) (“Harper I”).
19. The General Assembly enacted remedial legislative and congressional plans (the “Remedial Plans”) on February 17, 2022. The Remedial Senate Plan used different county groupings for the Senate Districts in Northeastern North Carolina than had been used in the 2021 Senate plan.⁵ The Remedial Plans were submitted to the three-judge panel on February 18, 2022.

20. In the interim, the three-judge panel hired three Special Masters, all former jurists, who in turn hired four advisors of their own. The three-judge panel submitted the Remedial Plans to the Special Masters.. The Special Masters recommended that the trial court uphold the General Assembly’s remedial House and Senate plans, but that the court reject the remedial Congressional plan. The Special Masters submitted an alternative remedial congressional plan (the “Interim Congressional Plan”) drafted in consultation with one of the advisors, Dr. Bernard Grofman, to the three-judge panel. The three-judge panel adopted the findings of the Special Masters in full. All parties appealed the three-judge panel’s remedial order to the North Carolina Supreme Court, and some sought a stay of the order. The stay petitions were denied. Accordingly, the Remedial House and Senate Plans and the Interim Congressional Plan were used in the 2022 Elections.
21. Appeals from the three-judge panel’s remedial order to the North Carolina Supreme Court proceeded on an expedited schedule, with oral arguments held in October of 2022. Ultimately, the North Carolina Supreme Court issued a ruling on December 16, 2022, Harper v. Hall, 383 N.C. 89, 881 S.E.2d 89 (2022) (“Harper II”) that affirmed the three-judge panel’s rejection of the Remedial Congressional Plan and their approval of the ⁵ The districts were also re-numbered such that Senate Districts 3 and 1 covered Northeastern North Carolina as opposed to Senate Districts 1 and 2.

Remedial House Plan, but reversed the three-judge panel's approval of the Remedial Senate Plan.

22. On January 20, 2023, Legislative Defendants filed a petition for rehearing requesting that the North Carolina Supreme Court rehear Harper II, which the North Carolina Supreme Court granted on February 2, 2023.
23. After oral arguments, the North Carolina Supreme Court issued another opinion on April 28, 2023, 384 N.C. 292, 886 S.E.2d 393 (2023) ("Harper III"), that withdrew Harper II, overruled Harper I, and held that partisan gerrymandering claims are nonjusticiable political questions under the North Carolina Constitution. The Court also allowed the General Assembly to re-draw all state legislative redistricting plans ahead of the 2024 election.
24. The General Assembly held three public comment sessions from September 25–27, 2023, one each in Elizabeth City, Hickory, and Raleigh. The General Assembly also opened a public comment portal on the General Assembly's website that allowed individuals to submit comments and proposed maps for consideration.
25. An initial draft version of S.B. 758 was filed on October 18, 2023.
26. On October 19, 2023, the Senate referred the S.B. 758 initial draft to the Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections. The Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections then convened and enacted criteria for the new Senate redistricting plan (the "2023 Senate Criteria"). Also on October 19, 2023, the Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections considered the initial draft of S.B. 758, which reverted to the two county groupings in Northeastern North Carolina that were originally passed in S.B. 739 in 2021 for Senate Districts 1 and 2. All other county groupings remained the same as the 2022 Remedial Senate Plan. The Senate Committee on Redistricting and Elections continued debating S.B. 758 on October 23, 2023. Democratic Senators Woodard and Garrett each offered an amendment, relating to Durham and Guilford counties respectively, which both passed unanimously. Those amendments did not involve any counties or districts in Northeastern North Carolina. S.B. 758's Committee Substitute was adopted and sent to the Senate for debate.

27. On October 24, 2023, Democratic Senator Dan Blue offered two amendments to S.B. 758, both of which proposed changes to the districts in Northeastern North Carolina. Both of these amendments were tabled on party line votes and were not adopted. Democratic Senator Mohammed offered one amendment, which involved Mecklenburg County. This amendment was also tabled on party lines and was not adopted.
28. On October 22, 2023, the Southern Coalition for Social Justice submitted a letter to members of the General Assembly appending a memo containing an analysis of the proposed Senate map conducted by Dr. Kassra A.R. Oskooii. Senator Blue moved to place this letter and appended memo into the Senate Redistricting and Elections Committee record.
29. On October 25, 2023, the General Assembly passed and ratified S.L. 2023-146 (S.B. 758) into North Carolina law (the "2023 Senate Plan").

30. On November 20, 2023, Plaintiffs filed the instant action challenging Senate District 1 (“SD1”) and Senate District 2 (“SD2”).
31. SD1 is made up of the following whole counties: Northampton, Hertford, Bertie, Gates, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Camden, Currituck, Tyrell, and Dare. It has a Black Voting Age Population (“BVAP”) of 29.49% based on the 2020 Decennial Census Data.
32. SD2 is made up of the following whole counties: Warren, Halifax, Martin, Chowan, Washington, Hyde, Pamlico, and Carteret. It has a BVAP of 30.01% based on the 2020 Decennial Census Data.
33. The following are the total Black population and BVAPs for Bertie, Edgecombe, Halifax, Hertford, Northampton, Vance, Warren, and Washington Counties based on 2020 U.S. Census Data. II. CONTENTIONS.

A. Plaintiffs

1. Facts:⁷

- a. Northeastern North Carolina includes a number of counties that are part of what is sometimes referred to as the “Black Belt,” a region that today refers to the counties with the largest Black populations in a number of Southern states, including North Carolina.
- b. North Carolina’s Black Belt counties, all located in the northeast part of the state, include Bertie, Hertford, Edgecombe, Northampton, and Halifax Counties, each of which have greater than 50% BVAP based on 2020 census data. Vance, Warren, Martin, and Washington Counties each have greater than 40% BVAP. Gates and Chowan Counties have a greater than 30% BVAP.
- c. Eight of North Carolina’s Black Belt counties have a total population that is majority Black (Bertie, Hertford, Edgecombe, Northampton, Halifax, Vance, Warren, and Washington). Others have substantial percentages of Black total population, including Martin (42.1%), Chowan (33.6%), and Gates (31.2%).
- d. The Voting Rights Act has historically enabled Black voters in North Carolina’s majority-Black counties—Bertie, Edgecombe, Halifax, Hertford, Northampton, Vance, Warren, and Washington—to elect their candidates of choice in state legislative races. Following the Supreme Court's 1986 decision in Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30 (1986), every single one of North Carolina's majority-Black counties was represented by a Black-preferred candidate in the state Senate until 2018. Following the 2018 and 2020 elections, six of the eight majority-Black counties continued to be represented by Black-preferred Senators. Under the maps enacted in 2022 and 2023, however, only Edgecombe County has elected a Black-preferred candidate; the other seven majority-Black Black Belt counties are now represented by Senators preferred by white voters and opposed by Black voters.

- e. After the 2020 census, in November 2021, the North Carolina General Assembly enacted new maps for the state House and Senate. Those maps were never used in an election because the North Carolina Supreme Court enjoined them as unconstitutional partisan gerrymanders and ordered the General Assembly to enact remedial plans. Harper v. Hall (Harper I), 868 S.E.2d 499, 551-52 (N.C. 2022), overruled on reh'g by Harper v. Hall (Harper III), 886 S.E.2d 393 (N.C. 2023); see Harper v. Hall, 867 S.E.2d 554 (N.C. 2022) (order preceding issuance of Harper I).
- f. The General Assembly adopted a new state House and Senate plans in February 2022. The trial court approved those maps, which were used in the 2022 elections.

- g. The 2022 state Senate plan divided voters in the Black Belt counties between four districts—namely, Senate Districts 1, 3, 5, and 11, which had BVAPs of 17.47%, 42.33%, 40.35%, and 36.65%, respectively.
- h. In the 2022 elections, the white-preferred candidate ran unopposed and won in District 1; white-preferred candidates defeated Black-preferred candidates in Districts 3 and 11; and the Black-preferred candidate defeated the white-preferred candidate in District 5.
- i. In December 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court reversed the trial court’s remedial order accepting the General Assembly’s 2022 state Senate map. Harper v. Hall (Harper II), 881 S.E.2d 156, 181 (N.C. 2022). The Court later withdrew that decision, vacated the trial court’s remedial order, and authorized the General Assembly to adopt new state House and Senate maps. Id. at 449.
- j. The General Assembly released proposed new state House and Senate plans in October 2023.
- k. The Southern Coalition for Social Justice submitted a letter and accompanying expert memo provided by Dr. Kassra A.R. Oskooii that analyzed Senate Districts 1 and 2 of the 2022 enacted map and Senate Districts 1 and 3 of the then-proposed 2023 map. The letter reported that racially polarized voting existed in the Black Belt counties, that “all three Gingles preconditions are established in the area covered by Proposed Senate Districts 1 & 2,” and that those districts “unlawfully dilute the voting strength of Black voters in northeast North Carolina.”

- l. The General Assembly did not conduct its own analysis of racially polarized voting in North Carolina as a whole or in any part of North Carolina during the 2023 redistricting process.
- m. Without conducting its own analysis of racially polarizing voting in North Carolina as a whole or in any part of North Carolina, the General Assembly enacted the new state Senate plan on October 25, 2023.
- n. The 2023 enacted Senate plan divides voters in the Black Belt counties between four districts—namely Senate Districts 1, 2, 5, and 11, which have BVAPs of 29.49%, 30.01%, 40.35%, and 36.65%, respectively.
- o. In the 2024 election, white-preferred candidates defeated Black-preferred candidates in Districts 1, 2, and 11, while a Black-preferred candidate defeated a white-preferred candidate in District 5. The 2024 election results mark the second time since Gingles, and the second consecutive election, that the Black Belt counties elected only one Black-preferred candidate.
- p. It is possible to draw an additional majority-Black Senate district in northeastern North Carolina while complying with traditional redistricting principles and North Carolina's county grouping rules. Creating such a district can be achieved in multiple different geographic arrangements.
- q. Statewide, Black voters consistently back the same candidates by greater than 95%. In 2023 enacted Senate Districts 1 and 2, more than 97% of Black voters typically back the same candidate.
- r. Statewide, white voters oppose the Black-preferred candidate by about 70-75%. In 2023 enacted Senate Districts 1 and 2, around 80% of white voters typically opposed the Black-preferred candidate between 2016 and 2022. In more recent elections (2020 and 2022), white bloc voting is even more extreme than 80%.

- s. Voting is even more polarized in the 12-county area where a Black-majority district is possible (the Demonstration Area). There, White voters crossed over to support the Black preferred candidate at a rate of 15.7% on average across 2016 to 2022.
- t. In the 2022, 2020, and 2018 election cycles, using results from 31 statewide elections, the Black-preferred candidate wins a majority of the vote 0 out of 31 times in 2023 enacted Senate Districts 1 and 2. If 2016 elections are considered as well, the Black-preferred candidate wins a majority of the vote 6 times out of 49 in District 1 and 5 times out of 49 in District 2.
- u. In addition to the 2023 enacted Senate plan itself, multiple other factors inhibit Black voters' ability to participate equally in North Carolina's political process.
- v. North Carolina has "a long and shameful history of race-based voter suppression" that has denied and abridged voting rights for Black people, sometimes intentionally. N.C. State Conf. of the NAACP v. Raymond, 981 F.3d 295, 311 (4th Cir. 2020). This includes historical examples like literacy tests and poll taxes, as well as more recent examples reflected in multiple court decisions striking down North Carolina election laws for discriminating against Black voters.

- w. As described above, North Carolina is characterized by extreme racially polarized voting, both statewide and in enacted Senate Districts 1 and 2 specifically.
- x. As described above, North Carolina has often used voting practices and procedures that tend to enhance the opportunity for discrimination against Black voters.
- y. Black people in North Carolina bear the effects of discrimination in areas that affect voting such as education, socioeconomic well-being, health, and criminal justice. Due in part to historical and contemporary discrimination, there are significant gaps between Black and white North Carolinians with respect to educational attainment, unemployment, income, poverty, homeownership, life expectancy, infant mortality, cancer, and diabetes.
- z. There have been numerous instances of both explicit and racial appeals in North Carolina political campaigns, both historically and recently, from the Jesse Helms ads to the 2024 elections which featured, by way of example, a white candidate accusing her Black opponent of spending “his professional life going after white people and Jews.”
- aa. No Black person has ever been elected Governor, Attorney General, or U.S. Senator in North Carolina. In the Black Belt counties, Black candidates for state House and Senate have typically lost to white candidates when running in majority-white districts.

bb. In many important respects, the General Assembly has been non-responsive or insufficiently responsive to the particularized needs of Black North Carolinians, both statewide and in the Black Belt counties specifically.

2. Factual issues:

- a. The BVAP and Black CVAP of 2023 enacted state Senate Districts 1, 2, 5, and 11, as well as Plaintiffs' demonstration districts.
- b. The extent to which a majority of Black voters in Senate Districts 1 and 2 typically back the same candidates.
- c. The extent to which white voters in Senate Districts 1 and 2 typically oppose Black-preferred candidates.
- d. The extent to which white-preferred candidates usually defeat Black-preferred candidates in Districts 1 and 2.
- e. The extent of North Carolina's history of official voting-related discrimination.
- f. The extent to which voting in the region is racially polarized.
- g. The extent to which North Carolina has used voting practices or procedures that tend to enhance the opportunity for discrimination against Black voters.
- h. The extent to which Black people, both statewide and in the Black Belt counties, bear the effects of discrimination in areas that affect voting such as education, socioeconomic indicators, and health.
- i. The extent to which there have been overt or subtle racial appeals in North Carolina political campaigns.

- j. The extent to which Black candidates have been elected to public office, both statewide and in the Black Belt counties.
- k. The extent to which there has been a lack of responsiveness on the part of elected officials to the particularized needs of Black North Carolinians.

3. Legal issues:

- a. Whether the first Gingles precondition is satisfied because the Black population in North Carolina's Black Belt counties is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority in a reasonably configured single-member district.
- b. Whether the second Gingles precondition is satisfied because Black voters in 2023 enacted Senate Districts 1 and 2 are politically cohesive.
- c. Whether the third Gingles precondition is satisfied because white voters in Districts 1 and 2 vote sufficiently as a bloc to usually defeat Black voters' preferred candidates.
- d. Whether, under the totality of the circumstances, Black people lack equal opportunity to participate in the political process and to elect candidates of their choice.

B. Legislative Defendants

1. Facts:

- a. Article II, Sections 3 and 5 of the North Carolina Constitution specifically enumerate four limitations upon the redistricting and reapportionment authority of the General Assembly as to legislative districts, including that:

- a. Each Senator and Representative shall represent, as nearly as possible, an equal number of inhabitants;
 - b. Each senate and representative district shall at all times consist of contiguous territory;
 - c. No county shall be divided in the formation of senator or representative districts (the “Whole County Provision”); and
 - d. Once established, the senate and representative districts and the apportionment of Senators and Representatives shall remain unaltered until the next decennial census of population taken by order of Congress
- b. The challenged region of North Carolina has a long legal history with redistricting. During the 1990 redistricting cycle, the United States Supreme Court decided the seminal racial gerrymandering case, Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630 (1993), which involved North Carolina’s First Congressional District (“CD1”), which encompassed a large portion of the counties in Northeastern North Carolina. After the 2010 redistricting cycle, the Supreme Court again encountered CD1 in another racial gerrymandering claim, affirming the district court’s findings striking CD1 down as a racial gerrymander. Cooper v. Harris, 581 U.S. 285 (2017). Cooper affirmed the district court’s finding that the General Assembly used race as the predominant criterion in configuring CD1 as a majority-Black district, triggering strict scrutiny, id. at 299–301, and found that the General Assembly failed to show its use of race was narrowly tailored to Voting Rights Act compliance. The Court affirmed the finding, rejecting the General Assembly's narrow-tailoring defense because it found the General Assembly had not proven that, under the third Gingles precondition, white bloc voting was so strong that a majority-Black district was required to afford equal electoral opportunity to Black voters. Id. at 306. Rather, a crossover district (one with less than 50% BVAP) would provide equal minority opportunity. Id. The district court in Covington v. North Carolina, 316 F.R.D. 117 (M.D.N.C. 2016) made a similar finding regarding certain state legislative districts in Northeastern North Carolina, e.g., id. at 142, (SD4), 151 (HD5), and its decision was summarily affirmed by the United States Supreme Court. North Carolina v. Covington, 581 U.S. 1015 (2017).

c. After this series of decisions, the General Assembly declined to consider racial data in remedial districting redraws that occurred in 2017 and 2019.

d. After receipt of the 2021 decennial census data, the General Assembly passed a senate plan on November 4, 2021, that was likewise drawn without racial data, S.L. 2021-173. In conducting this redistricting process, the General Assembly adopted the 2021 Criteria, which guided enactment of new redistricting plans for North Carolina House and Senate Districts, as well as Congressional Districts. The 2021 Criteria instructed that among other things, North Carolina's redistricting plans must be contiguous, compact, comply with the Stephenson criteria, respect municipal and VTD boundaries, and have equal population, or population within +/- 5% for legislative districts. The 2021 Criteria also forbade the consideration of partisan or racial data, though member residence and local knowledge of the characteristics of communities could be considered. The General Assembly reviewed the county grouping formula and determined there were two permissible Stephenson county groupings for state Senate districts in Northeastern North Carolina, and chose one of them. These are the same two county grouping configurations for the counties in Northeastern North Carolina identified in the Duke Academic Paper.

- e. The 2021 Plans were challenged under theories of partisan gerrymandering. In February 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court struck down the 2021 Plans on claims of partisan gerrymandering in Harper I. In a full remedial order issued on February 14, 2022, the North Carolina Supreme Court, for the first time, set forth metrics whereby the partisanship of districts could be measured. Harper v. Hall, 380 N.C. 317, 868 S.E.2d 499 (2022) (“Harper P”). During the remedial redistricting phase that followed, the General Assembly used partisan data to run the partisanship tests set forth in Harper I, subsequently enacting remedial House, Congressional, and Senate plans. While the Remedial House Plan passed with broad bipartisan support, the Remedial Senate Plan received less bipartisan support. However, the Remedial Senate Plan did, at the request of Intervenor-Plaintiff Common Cause, switch the county groupings used for the Senate Districts in Northeastern North Carolina to the alternative county grouping configuration in order to alleviate the alleged partisan gerrymandering. Again, the General Assembly did not use racial data in the 2022 remedial process. When evaluating the remedial redistricting plans, the trial court and the North Carolina Supreme Court considered whether §2 liability might arise under the remedial plans, and concluded that a polarized voting analysis of Dr. Jeffrey Lewis, who advised the General Assembly, demonstrated that it would not. Harper II, 383 N.C. at 123.

- f. The three-judge panel also hired three Special Masters who, along with their four advisors, reviewed and produced a report on the Remedial Plans that was based primarily on reports written by the four advisors. The Special Masters found that the Remedial House and Senate Plans met the requirements of Harper I, but that the Remedial Congressional Plan did not. After the three-judge panel adopted the findings of the Special Masters in full, the North Carolina Supreme Court affirmed the three-judge panel's order in part and reversed in part in Harper II.
- g. On January 20, 2023, Legislative Defendants timely filed a petition for rehearing pursuant to Rule 31 of the North Carolina Rules of Appellate Procedure that requested the North Carolina Supreme Court rehear Harper II on the basis that the standards set forth in Harper I and Harper II were unmanageable. The North Carolina Supreme Court granted the petition for rehearing, and ultimately withdrew Harper II, overruled Harper I, and held that partisan gerrymandering claims are nonjusticiable political questions under the North Carolina Constitution. In accordance with the Harper III order, the General Assembly drew new redistricting plans, including the 2023 Senate and House Plans, which passed on October 25, 2023. The redistricting process did not begin until late summer of 2023 because of ongoing contentious budget negotiations.

- h. The 2023 Senate Criteria required that districts be contiguous and compact, comply with the Stephenson county grouping rules, and be based on equal population. The 2023 Senate Criteria also mandated that county lines, VTDs, and municipal boundaries could be considered, as well as other traditional districting principles, incumbent residence, and political data. The 2023 Senate Criteria also mandated that data identifying the race of individuals or voters should not be used in the drafting of districts for the 2023 Senate Plan.
- i. The General Assembly did not use race to draw the 2023 Senate Plan because it felt that there was insufficient evidence that the Gingles preconditions could be met. Only after the 2023 Senate Plan was drawn did the General Assembly allow race to be loaded into a separate system to produce StatPacks with racial information. The General Assembly allowed for and requested input from the public in drawing the 2023 Senate Plan. The General Assembly also sought evidence from the public of any legally significant racially polarized voting. It received none.
- j. SD1 and SD2 are single county grouping districts. The SD1 grouping was chosen because it kept intact four of the five finger counties in Northeastern North Carolina, over 80% of the population is in the Norfolk Media Market, and many of the residents in those counties work or travel to the Virginia tidewater area. The SD2 grouping was chosen because it followed the Roanoke River to the Albemarle Sound, while also including both the Pamlico River and Pamlico Sound, and because two-thirds of SD2's counties are in the Greenville Media Market.

- k. While ultimately questions for the Court to decide, it is Legislative Defendants' position that Plaintiffs cannot meet their burden of proof under the three Gingles preconditions and that the totality of the circumstances weigh in favor of Defendants.

2. Factual issues:

- a. Whether the minority group in the challenged districts is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority in a single-member district.
- b. Whether the minority group is politically cohesive.
- c. Whether White voters usually vote as a bloc to defeat the minority group.
- d. The extent of any history of official discrimination in the state or political subdivision that touched the right of members of the minority group to register, to vote, or otherwise to participate in the democratic process.
- e. The extent to which voting in the elections of the state or political subdivision is racially polarized.
- f. The extent to which the state or political subdivision has used unusually large election districts, majority vote requirements, anti-single shot provisions, or other voting practices or procedures that may enhance the opportunity for discrimination against the minority group.

- g. The extent to which members of the minority group in the state or political subdivision bear the effects of discrimination in such areas as education, employment, and health, which hinder their ability to participate effectively in the political process.
- h. Whether political campaigns have been characterized by overt or subtle racial appeals.
- i. The extent to which members of the minority group have been elected to public office in the jurisdiction.
- j. Whether there is a significant lack of responsiveness on the part of elected officials to the particularized needs of the members of the minority group.
- k. Whether the policy underlying the state or political subdivision's use of such voting qualification, prerequisite to vote, or standard, practice or procedure is tenuous.

3. Legal issues:

- e. Whether Plaintiffs have standing to challenge Senate District 1 in the 2023 Senate Plan.
- f. Whether Plaintiffs have met their burden of proof on the Gingles I precondition to show that the Black Voting Age Population in the challenged districts is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority in a reasonably configured single-member Senate district.
- g. Whether Plaintiffs have met their burden of proof under Gingles II to show that Black voters in the challenged districts are politically cohesive.

- h. Whether Plaintiffs have met their burden of proof under Gingles III to show that, in the challenged districts, the majority votes sufficiently as a bloc to enable it usually to defeat Black voters' preferred candidates.
- i. Whether the totality of the circumstances show that the political process is equally open such that members of the minority group have equal access to the political process and to elect representatives of their choice.
- j. Whether the 2023 Senate Plan gives the minority group statewide substantial proportionality.
- k. Whether Plaintiffs seek to maximize the number of majority-Black districts or achieve extra-proportionality statewide.
