DISSENTING STATEMENT

CHIEF JUSTICE TODD

FILED: October 5, 2024

I respectfully dissent from the majority’s decision not to exercise our Court’s King’s Bench power in this matter. In my view, it is imperative that we exercise our King’s Bench power and decide this matter now. The issue before us is of grave importance: whether invalidation of a voter’s absentee or mail-in ballot – which is timely received, but lacks a handwritten date, or has an incorrect date, on the ballot return envelope – violates the Free and Equal Elections Clause of our Constitution.¹ Our county boards of elections, the Secretary of State, the courts of this Commonwealth who are tasked with adjudicating election matters in the first instance, and the voters themselves need clarity on this issue

¹ This provision states: “Elections shall be free and equal; and no power, civil or military, shall at any time interfere to prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage.” Pa. Const. art. 1, § 5.

prior to Election Day when ballots will be canvassed. We ought to resolve this important constitutional question now, before ballots may be improperly rejected and voters disenfranchised.²

Our Court's King's Bench authority³ is to be used sparingly, but we will invoke it when necessary to "review an issue of public importance that requires timely intervention by [our Court] to avoid the deleterious effects arising from delays incident to the ordinary ² In his concurring statement, Justice Brobson discounts the existence of uncertainty over the constitutional question presented, but disregards two facts. First, our Court has never adjudicated the present constitutional question. In Ball v. Chapman, 289 A.3d 1 (Pa. 2023), we held, as a matter of statutory interpretation, that the Election Code requires a voter to supply a date on the ballot return envelope. Id. at 23 (holding that county boards of election have authority under the Code to evaluate whether the date "fall[s] within the date ranges derived from statutes indicating when it is possible to send out mail-in and absentee ballots."). We did not address the constitutional claim now raised by Petitioners. Notably, however, three Justices of an evenly divided Court, in discussing whether these requirements violated the "materiality" provision of the Federal Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10101(a)(2)(B), suggested that the "failure to comply with the date requirement would not compel the discarding of votes in light of the Free and Equal Elections Clause, and our attendant jurisprudence that ambiguities are resolved in a way that will enfranchise, rather than disenfranchise, the electors of this Commonwealth." Id. at 27 n.156.

Second, very recently, the Commonwealth Court found in favor of challengers raising the identical constitutional question Petitioners present herein. See Black Political Empowerment Project v. Schmidt, 2024 WL 4002321, *1 (Pa. Cmwlth filed Aug. 30, 2024) (unpublished memorandum) ("[T]he dating provisions serve no compelling government interest. The refusal to count undated or incorrectly dated but timely mail ballots submitted by otherwise eligible voters because of meaningless and inconsequential paperwork errors violates the fundamental right to vote recognized in the free and equal elections clause."). We vacated that decision on jurisdictional grounds, without addressing the merits of the constitutional question. Black Political Empowerment Project v. Schmidt, 2024 WL 4181592 (Pa. filed Sept. 13, 2024) (order).

In my view, these cases amply demonstrate continued uncertainty in this area of the law.

process of law.” Commonwealth v. Williams, 129 A.3d 1199, 1206 (Pa. 2015). Further, when an issue broadly and significantly impacts the public, and fuels widespread concern for the issue’s expeditious resolution, that weighs heavily in favor of our exercise of this power. See, e.g., Friends of Danny Devito v. Wolf, 227 A.3d 872 (Pa. 2020).

Here, the issue concerns the fundamental right to vote, a matter of the utmost importance to every Pennsylvanian. There are potentially substantial deleterious consequences of leaving this issue unresolved at present, because of the possibility it will result in the disenfranchisement of voters who have timely returned their ballots, but who failed to date, or provided an erroneous date, on the return envelope. Moreover, post-election challenges by voters whose ballots have been rejected on this basis have the potential to disrupt the orderly administration of the electoral process.

While I recognize time is short, and that resolving constitutional questions is delicate and difficult, our Court has considered such questions in the past and rendered comprehensive resolutions expeditiously, and we are eminently capable of doing so in this instance. Where, as here, the issue concerns the fundamental right to vote, and where the consequences of inaction risk undermining the electoral process, I deem it imperative to act now.
